BIG ATTACK BY ALLIED FORCES

Axis Front "Broken" in Tunisia

LAUNCHING a new attack, with Tunis as the objective, British tanks and infantry have "penetrated deeply" into the Axis positions, and Massicault, 16 miles from the capital city, was taken by storm yesterday.

Coincident with this offensive—reported last night in a special communiqué from General Eisenhower's Headquarters—the U.S. Second Corps is attacking on all sectors of the northern front and has already cleared the Jebel Cheniti, main barrier to Bizerta, north of Lake Achkel.

A Reuter correspondent this morning states that the German front in the north has been "completely broken."

"DOMINATION" IN AIR

The following special Allied communiqué was issued last night:—

"The First Army, with the magnificent support of our air forces, took the offensive south of the River Medjerda early to-day. Infantry and armoured units have penetrated deeply into the enemy positions. The village of Massicault was captured this afternoon. Many prisoners from a large number of different units have been taken.

"The Second U.S. Corps, in co-operation with the First Army, have also advanced on a wide front against strong opposition. Fighting continues.

"Taking advantage of complete air domination and making the most concentrated air attack of the war, the North-West African Air Forces blasted a path in advance of our ground units.

A Reuter correspondent cabled this morning from Allied H.Q.: It is doubtful whether the Germans can make any further stand before the suburbs of Tunis are reached.

2,000 SORTIES

"More than two thousand sorties were flown by the Tactical Air Force alone, and seventeen enemy aircraft were destroyed over their own landing grounds.

"Our land operations were carried out without hindrance from hostile aircraft. The Desert Air Force blew up a destroyer in the course of a shipping sweep in the Gulf of Tunis. The Strategic Air Force deprived the enemy of desperately needed supplies, heavily bombing shipping in the Tunisian Straits and the harbours of Sicily."

Reuter's special correspondents in messages received this morning stated:—Advancing along a path covered by the most concentrated air attack of this war, British tanks and infantry cut deep into the Axis defences before Tunis, and captured Massicault, a key position only 16 miles from the capital city.

The objective of the combined Anglo-American operations, covering a front of nearly 60 miles from the Mediterranean to the Medjerda area, is described as the "clearing up of the Tunisian campaign."

The First Army's attack began under terrific air cover and after a tremendous artillery barrage. Early accounts disclosed a picture of "excellent progress," with the Germans already evacuated from the village of Borjfred, three miles from General Anderson's starting point.

Prominent in the Allied effort were hundreds of British guns, which laid down a powerful barrage before the British infantry moved forward to take their first objective.

After the preliminary capture on Wednesday of the Jebel Bou Aoukaz, the 700-feet peak which dominates the Medjerda Valley, General Anderson swiftly marshalled his forces for the new offensive. Throughout the hours of darkness the British grouped more men and guns at their battle stations than had ever been concentrated on a two-mile front in North Africa, and possibly on any front during the whole war.

DAWN ASSAULT

After the Allied Air Forces had prepared the greatest and most concentrated attack of the war to open the way for the advancing infantry, says Reuter, British troops went into action at dawn. At one time the Air Forces were attacking the Germans with hundreds of machines operating over a zone little more than twelve miles in depth.

After them came the forward infantry and field artillery bombarding its way down the Mejerda Valley and moving steadily towards Massicault.

General von Arnim, in shortening his line in the north, had made this hamlet the pivot of his whole defensive system. But the outer ring of the German defences crumpled, and the German retreat to Tunis began. The Germans were able to hold Massicault for only a few hours.

BREAK-THROUGH

The attack by the Americans in the north rolled up the German line and the British broke through with all the force they had. Further north the Americans are pushing steadily forward to Bizerta.

In the north the Axis force is in danger at all points. It would seem now that General von Arnim faces his ultimate end and that a general retreat is likely.

The Americans made heavy attacks on both sides of Lake Achkel, which lies just west of the Lake of Bizerta. On the northern shore they took the Jebel Cheniti. On the southern shore, along which the Allies are thrusting near to Ferryville, the Jebel Achkel was cleared.

Jebel Cheniti was described as the "biggest remaining barrier to a break-through to the sea."

Last night's French communiqué said:—

"In the coastal sector progress by the Corps Franc d'Afrique in the direction of Bizerta is developing favourably. An enemy coup de main has been repulsed in the area of Pont du Fahs. In this sector our troops have consolidated the ground gained. Artillery on both sides has shown intense activity."—(Reuter and Associated Press.)

"FINAL PHASE"

Mr. H. L. Stimson, U.S. War Secretary, said yesterday in Washington: "The noose is tightening around the Axis Army in Tunisia, and the campaign is entering the final phase."

While the Axis losses were heavy, he added, the bulk of the Axis Army was intact. Uttering a warning of hard fighting in this last phase, Mr. Stimson said: "There is still no evidence of an evacuation. We have a veteran Axis Army brought to bay in a restricted area which must fight or surrender, and there is every indication that they will fight."

General Giraud yesterday forecast at Algiers that Axis resistance in Africa would be broken before the month is out.—(Reuter.)

TURF MEN RETURNING TO WORK

THE strike of over 1,000 workers employed at the Dublin turf dumps has been settled, and the men will resume to-day.

The settlement was reached at a conference yesterday under the auspices of the Department of Industry and Commerce. A reporter learned that the men, who had received dismissal notices, are to continue at work for a week, and, where redundancy arises, the men will be employed by the contractors, who have taken over from Messrs. Fuel Importers, Ltd., who, it is stated, have sub-let the contract to another firm.

Government Failures Criticised

OPPOSITION critics of the Budget, when the debate on it was resumed yesterday, said very little about its details, but concentrated on the failure of the Government to stop emigration, and on the failure of its agricultural policy to produce sufficient food.

Mr. D. MORRISSEY (F.G.) said that, when the Minister had talked about the excess of invisible imports over visible exports, surely mention should have been made of one very visible export—the export of men and women at a rate unequalled since the famine. The Minister talked about an increase of 40 per cent. in bank deposits. But the real wealth of the country was being rapidly reduced—its men and women, materials, and the fertility of the soil.

It was also a serious matter that after four years of war, and despite all the appeals to farmers, Irish agriculture was not producing more than it did four years ago. We had had shortages of butter, bacon, milk and potatoes in this agricultural country. In Dublin potatoes could not be got.

ENGLISH MARKET

Professor J. M. O'SULLIVAN (F.G., Kerry) said he agreed with the Minister that they must have an export trade and external credit, and asked were any reasonable steps being taken to secure that. Modern transport conditions would bring far distant countries and their products much nearer the English market. What steps were the Government taking to secure that there would be not only a market for our characteristic products, but that there would be available supplies of such materials as this country needed. Less than twelve months ago they had the Minister for Supplies telling them that in the present situation this country's bargaining power was practically nil. Did the Minister for Finance subscribe to that summing up of our economic international position? If so, then what was the good of the present Budget?

Mr. J. HUGHES (F.G.) said that the people had reason to be alarmed at the rate of spending. The fact was that the people were getting bad value. The Government was quite complacent about the fact that they were exporting only cattle. They had failed their only customer, Great Britain.

Alderman A. BYRNE (Ind.) suggested that the Minister should borrow a larger sum to relieve the grave bardships that thousands of people were enduring. The things on which money should be spent included the reduction of the old age pension age to 65, the modification of means tests, the increase of soldiers' wives' allowances, and the increase of blind pensions, which in Dublin were limited to 6s. per week.

MINISTER'S REPLY

The Minister for Finance, replying to the debate, said that if they compared their position with that of any of the States in Europe, particularly small neutrals like themselves, they would find that, by comparison, the situation here was as sound and as solid as any of them. He had to admit that the Budget, in the pre-war sense, had not been balanced except by borrowing, and the ratio of borrowing had been more than this country could afford. "I think it is a wise course," he said, "and I think it would not be wise to obtain by taxation the full hundred per cent. to pay for the additional services which had grown up since the emergency. The Army and the auxiliary defence services are five times as expensive as they were in pre-war days."

They had not solved the unemployment problem, but what country, he asked, had solved it? The only countries he knew that had abolished unemployment were the Totalitarian countries — Germany, Italy and Russia. Even Britain, who had a great love for democracy, had been forced to adopt the totalitarian system.

They could not have 100 per cent. employment unless they adopted totalitarian methods. Deputy Norton could end unemployment in Kildare by organising the farmers as they were organised in Russia—but he did not think the deputy would do that. They could succeed by coercion, but the citizens would not stand for it.

The resolution was passed, and the Finance Bill, 1943, was given a first reading. The second stage was fixed for Wednesday next, and the House adjourned until then.

Call for a National Government

A CALL for the immediate formation of a National Government will be made shortly in the Dáil, when the following motion will be moved:—

"That the Dáil is of opinion that the formation of a National Government immediately would be in the best interests of the country."

The motion, of which notice was handed in yesterday, is in the names of Deputy Alfred Byrne, Deputy J. J. Cole and Deputy Major Sproule Mylee.

It is understood that the Taoiseach will be asked to give Government time at an early date for the discussion of the motion.

New Hope of Russo-Polish Settlement

AUTHORITATIVE circles in London hope and believe that the desire of the Soviet Government to see a strong and independent Poland, expressed by M. Stalin, in his letter to The Times Moscow correspondent, will prove both helpful and constructive, says the Press Association Diplomatic Correspondent.

Polish circles are guarded in their comments regarding the suggestion of a post-war Russo-Polish military alliance, but General Sikorski yesterday declared that his Government is "ready to give a positive answer to any Soviet initiative which will coincide with the interests of the Polish Republic." He recalled that M. Stalin used similar words when the two met in Moscow, but, as it was seen in London last night, the important factor is that M. Stalin has chosen publicly to reaffirm to-day the statement made in December, 1941, despite the recent severance of Russo-Polish diplomatic relations.

English Catholic School Claims

"A firm determination" to hold on to their schools is expressed in a declaration issued by the Roman Catholic Bishops of England and Wales, after their meeting this week in London, under the presidency of the Archbishop of Liverpool. They describe the present system of education as unjust.

"We shall not give up our schools, no matter what sacrifice we may be called upon to make for them," says the statement. "We shall hold on to them. This is our firm determination. If the need should arise it would be our distasteful duty, and we should not shirk it, to protest with all our energy, and to oppose by all lawful means, any proposals which would threaten the existence of our schools. We ask our people to be calmly and firmly prepared for whatever lies ahead, and we invite with confidence the support of our fellow-citizens."

The bishops describe the burden on Catholics of keeping up their own schools as crushing, and express the hope that the Government will give England and Wales a settlement at least as equitable as that which is now provided in Scotland.

Invasion "This Summer"

Mr. Elmer Davis, Chief U.S. Officer of War Information, told reporters in Washington yesterday that there was "no question but that there will be Allied operations in continental Europe this summer."

Mr. Davis added that he was confident that the Allies could clean up North Africa soon enough to permit this invasion, but it might be necessary to leave a pocket of Axis resistance in North Africa, to be reduced by sustained pounding.

He thought the Germans intended to make their final stand in North Africa at Bizerta.—(Reuter.)

Abbeville Bombed

The Italian News Agency yesterday quoted a Paris report that "a formation of Anglo-American aircraft, escorted by fighters, has again bombed Abbeville, causing material damage in residential quarters, and numerous victims among the civil population."

SIR BASIL BROOKE'S CABINET

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

SIR Basil Brooke, Prime Minister of Northern Ireland, yesterday announced the composition of his new cabinet. He has himself retained the post of Minister of Commerce and Production. Other Ministers are:—

FINANCE—Major J. Maynard Sinclair, formerly Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry.

HOME AFFAIRS.— Mr. W. Lowry, K.C., formerly Parliamentary Secretary.

EDUCATION— Professor R. Corkey.

AGRICULTURE — Rev. Robert Moore.

PUBLIC SECURITY—Mr. Harry Midgley.

Mr. Midgley is leader of the Commonwealth Labour Party. Five parliamentary secretaryships have been abolished.

Mr. Grant is the only member of the former Cabinet to receive a portfolio. Ministers who have now left office are Mr. J. M. Andrews, Prime Minister; Mr. J. Milne Barbour, Finance; Sir Dawson Bates, Home Affairs; Mr. J. F. Gordon, Labour; Lord Glentoran, Agriculture, and Mr. J. H. Robb, Education.

MR. H. MIDGLEY.

The following Parliamentary Secretaryships will not be filled:—Finance, Labour, Agriculture and Public Security. In addition, there will be no Assistant Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Finance.

Mr. J. C. MacDermott remains as Attorney-General, and Mrs. Parker retains the Parliamentary Secretaryship of the Ministy of Education.

The biggest surprise is Mr. Midgley's decision to accept office. It is true that he shares Sir Basil Brooke's views on partition and the prosecution of the war, but on various domestic matters they are "poles apart."

The appointment is an indication that the Government's work will be directed mainly to increasing the province's war effort.

PARTY FOUNDER

Mr. Midgley, former chairman of the Northern Ireland Labour Party, is the founder and leader of the Commonwealth Labour Party, which he launched because of what he described as a tendency in the Northern Ireland Labour Party towards Republicanism.

The abolition of five parliamentary secretaryships will cause disappointment in some quarters, and may tend to swell the number of dissatisfied Unionists.

Sir Basil Brooke, however, is not a man who yields to threats of revolt. He has no illusions about his position, and if he should find his work impeded by a disgruntled element he would not hesitate to test the feelings of the electorate.

He holds firmly that the first business of a government is to govern and I predict that this will be made perfectly plain to all concerned when he makes his statement of policy next week.

Mr. Lowry was the obvious choice for Home Affairs. He has been in charge of it for the past six months during Sir Dawson Bates' illness.

TO GIVE UP CHAIR

The appointment of Professor Corkey as Minister of Education is approved generally. He stated to-night that he has informed the Faculty in the Presbyterian College that he is relinquishing all claims to his salary as a Professor while he is in office in the Cabinet, but that he will be willing to do any work that he can for the College in a voluntary capacity.

Rev. Robert Moore is a Presbyterian clergyman and a former President of the Farmers' Union. The General Assembly will be asked to decide whether he can continue to hold his charge while serving as a Minister of State.

Mr. J. H. Robb, K.C., the former Minister of Education, has been appointed County Court Judge of Armagh and Fermanagh.

BRIGADE AT WORK

Fighting the fire which gutted the main portion of the Shandon Park Mills at Phibsboro' yesterday.

City Mill Destroyed by Fire

A LARGE quantity of valuable machinery, which it will probably be impossible to replace, was destroyed when fire gutted the main portion of the Shandon Park Mills, Phibsboro', Dublin, last night.

The only mill of its kind in Dublin, it employed 22 workers and manufactured spices and meal for sausage filling.

The fire started when a dust explosion ignited a drying room in which a quantity of rusk meal was drying. The origin of the flame which caused the explosion is unknown.

William Kelly, the only employé on the premises at the time, gave the alarm immediately on hearing the explosion, which occurred at about 6.10 p.m., only five minutes after the foreman of the mill, William Casserly, had left following a tour of inspection. The fire spread very rapidly, and in about twenty minutes the upper three storeys of the mill were in flames. At the end of an hour the building was almost a shell. The flames and smoke were seen for a great distance, the mill being on a hill, and large crowds collected.

Mr. William Blake, proprietor, said that he did not know the value of the machinery or of the stores destroyed.

Four sections of the fire brigade, under Major J. Comerford, Chief Superintendent, fought the fire with the help of units of the Auxiliary Fire Service.

Grievances of Grocers

Dublin City and County Deputies yesterday discussed with Mr. S. Lemass, Minister for Supplies, points raised at a conference between the Deputies and representatives of the Retail Grocers', Dairymen and Allied Traders' Association concerning cases of cancellation of retailers' tea and sugar licences. The Association's contention was that the action taken in these cases did not appear to have been preceded by adequate inquiry, and was unnecessarily drastic.

A member of the deputation stated that the Minister pointed out that any trader against whom action was contemplated was given one month's notice in which he could make representations, which would be carefully considered in every case before a licence was withdrawn.

LESSONS OF DUBLIN BIRTH-RATE

"THE gross reproduction rate for the City of Dublin, showing a decrease of almost 10 per cent. over a period of five years, suggests that the population of the city is just beginning to find itself at the top of that slippery slope which has been manifest of recent years in Europe, pointing ultimately to a gradually decreasing population, unless the births deficiency is compensated by immigration."

This was stated by Mr. Stanley Lyon, addressing the Statistical and Social Inquiry Society of Ireland, in Dublin last night. "In any long-scale planning for the city," he said, "this type of population figure must be regarded as the light from a lighthouse pointing to dangerous rocks or shoals."

The figures for the years 1941-1942 presented at the lecture, which included a complete analysis of births by age of mother and by order of birth, made statistical history, this being the first time they had been compiled in this country.

The lecturer concluded by advocating the setting-up of a similar system of statistics for the entire country.

If the annual number of Dublin births remained constant, as assumptions suggested it would, then, under present conditions of mortality and fertility, it might be expected to increase gradually to about 600,000 and then remain stationary for a period.

EARLY MARRIAGE

Pointing out the stimulating effect on fertility of early marriage, Mr. Lyon said that approximately 13 per cent. of the 1941-1942 births were to mothers married under the age of 20, while 42 per cent. were married between 20 and 24, and 31 per cent. between 25 and 29 years. Half of the total number of children born were to mothers who had been married less than five years. Roughly one in every five or six first births to mothers in the three big city maternity hospitals had been conceived pre-nuptially.

Nuptial births related to males showed the highest numbers coming from the unskilled labourer, followed by the semi-skilled manual worker. After a big gap came the professional, clerical and commercial group, and the lowest was the skilled manual worker (or artisan) class.

5½ Millions Paid in Money Orders

The total value of money orders (telegraph and ordinary), originating in Great Britain and Northern Ireland, and paid in Eire between January 1, 1942, and March 31, 1943, was £5,417,083. For postal orders the figure was £583,308.

Woman Candidate for Dail

Mrs. H. Sheehy-Skeffington, who is to seek election to the Dail as an Independent for South Dublin City, inaugurated her campaign last night in Lincoln Chambers.

Important Red Gains in Kuban

A CABLE received last night from Reuter's Special Correspondent stated: Advanced Soviet elements, pressing down the narrow valley from Neberzhaevskaya, now are less than five miles from Novorossisk. They are approaching the last range of mountains covering the port.

Another Soviet force, advancing north-west of Novorossisk, is threatening to cut off the Germans in the port from their only remaining overland route of escape, which is the road to Anapa. Detailed news of the fighting is somewhat scanty, as the Soviet authorities apparently wish to feel sure of their position before making definite announcements in order to avoid disappointing the Russian public.

General Tulenev's break-through at Krynskaya has radically altered the position of the Kuban front in the last twenty-four hours after a virtual stalemate of several weeks' duration. The new Russian front extends now from Adagum, in the Kuban River plain, to Neberzhaevskaya, in the mountains dominating Novorossisk, drawing an arc across the steadily shrinking German bridgehead. Adagum lies five miles south of the Kuban River, twenty-four miles due north of Novorossisk, and represents a twelve-mile advance westward from Prikubanskaya, which the Red Army captured in April.

The assault on Krymskaya began during the night. Hundreds of guns laid down a curtain of shells on bridges, artillery positions and command points. Tommy-gunners and machine-gunners then advanced. By 5 a.m. on Tuesday a regiment had broken into the eastern tip of the town. Dawn brought a swarm of low-level bombers and fighters, which came over in wave after wave.

SOVIET COMMUNIQUE

Last night's Soviet communiqué stated:—"During May 5, in the Kuban, north-east of Novorossisk, the Germans launched a number of counter-attacks. One counter-attack was fiercer than the others. They were launched in an attempt to recapture Stary Aboquy and Neberdzalvskaya. All the enemy attacks were repelled by our troops with heavy losses to the enemy. Our warships in the Barents Sea sank an enemy transport and minesweeper."

Institute for Advanced Studies' Work

The work of the Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies and its constituent schools during the year ended 31st March, 1942, is recorded in a report by the Institute Council to the Government, which has been laid on the table of the Dail.

In reference to the work of the School of Celtic Studies, the report records that Miss Eileen M. Evans, Assistant Professor, commenced a course of lectures in phonetics in June, 1941, which were attended by students selected by the Governing Board and by others, including advanced students and lecturers in the two Universities. Miss Evans's services had been secured in order to train and direct a small group of students to enable them to undertake work in the phonetic investigation of existing Irish dialects and the recording of the living Irish speech.

In reference to the work of the School of Theoretical Studies, the report records that two courses of lectures had been developed into two regular features for teaching and discussion, going on weekly, with the breaks imposed by the University vacations. The first is Seminar, its scope being to unite the staff and scholars of the school with the other physicists and mathematicians living in or near Dublin in common reports and discussions of new research topics on the border-line of present knowledge. The second is a course of lectures, whose scope is to convey in coherent and comprehensive résumés of a monographic kind, the knowledge of such theories or theoretical methods as are needed or are likely to be needed in the independent research work of the school.

47 Saved from Lost Submarine

A British Admiralty communiqué yesterday stated that H.M. submarine Sahib (Lt. J. H. Bromage, D.S.O., O.S.C., R.N.) has been sunk in the Central Mediterranean.

According to Axis reports, the commanding officer, five other officers and 41 members of the crew were rescued and have been made prisoners of war.

No Agreement in Grocery Dispute

Negotiations were terminated without agreement being reached following a three-hour conference yesterday between representatives of the Licensed Grocers' and Vintners' Association and the Assistants' Union at the Department of Industry and Commerce. No date was fixed for a resumption of negotiations.

The union claims, inter alia, every second Sunday off, and the association has offered a five week-day working week of forty-eight hours, with overtime at double time rates for the Sundays worked, and also every fourth Sunday off.

Income Tax Payers Income

The gross income of people assessed for income tax during 1941-42 was £71,200,000, the MINISTER FOR FINANCE told Mr. J. Hickey (Lab.) in the Dail yesterday at question time. Of this, he said, £29,000,000 was taxable income, and the yield from it was £9,178,000. The net produce for each penny on the standard rate of income tax was £101,978.

Mr. LEMASS stated that no special provision is being made this year for the suppl yof cycle tyres and tubes to members of the L.D.F., L.S.F. and A.R.P. Services.

Dr. RYAN, Minister for Agriculture, said that the Dairy Disposals Board would have to hold for some time units in South Cork because there was need for organisation in that area. Other units in Cork and Kerry would be passed over to the surrounding creameries.

The Creameries (Acquisition) Bill passed its final stages.

BUTTER DECLINE

Having given statistics in regard to the milk and butter supplies of the country, Father Coyne said that the milk supplies of 1942 were probably less than those of 1941 by anything between 10 and 15 million gallons, if not considerably more. In regard to creamery butter, there was an enormous drop in production in the last seven years. In 1936 it stood at 837,879 cwts. In 1942 it had fallen to 611,289 cwts. Assigning causes for the decline, he said that one was the effect of the prices of milk and butter on the amount produced. Another cause would be found in the relation of the price of milk and butter to the prices offered for other agricultural commodities. A third cause was the absence of adequate feeding stuffs.

Mr. O. Binchy (Charleville) suggested that those receiving unemployment assistance should be compelled to work on the land at an adequate wage.

Mr. D. C. Maher (Boherlan) suggested that co-operative societies should take up experimental farming themselves.

Mr. P. Quinlan (Mitchelstown) said that those directing farming in this country did not understand it, and the efforts of the farmers in food production were being grossly misdirected. It was necessary to have a council of the co-operative movement that would secure an equal voice with the Department in directing what food was going to be produced now and in the gap to the post-war period.

Mr. P. Cronin (East Muskerry) said that if there was a shortage of essential commodities the responsibility should be placed on the proper authorities, and it was not for them to accept that responsibility.

Mr. A. A. McGuckian, Clogher-mills, Antrim, who was elected Vice-President, said he was impressed to find on a recent tour of the extreme South that land was not producing one-quarter of what it could produce. He gave particulars of experiments in Antrim, which had resulted in a ten-fold increase in ten years of formerly neglected grass lands, with the result that cattle were enabled to be put out on grass in early March.

Replying to a delegate, Father Coyne said that already there were credit societies in Limerick, Tipperary and Cork, and suggested that they would have a new movement in this connection in a short time.

Senator P. F. Baxter suggested that the Government should make an order to "freeze" those on the land. The men were leaving the land and going to the bogs.

A resolution was passed demanding a higher price than 9d. per gallon for milk supplies from farmers.

North and South United in Co-operative Movement

THE unity between North and South in the co-operative movement was stressed at the annual meeting yesterday, in Plunkett House, Dublin, of the Irish Agricultural Organisation Society. Rev. E. J. Coyne, S.J., was elected President, in succession to the late Mr. R. A. Anderson, and Mr. A. A. McGuckian (Antrim), Vice-President.

Tracing the growth of the organisation, Father Coyne said that in 1894 there were 67 societies in the 32 counties. To-day there were 400 in the 26 counties, with a turn-over of £12,000,000. The non-dairy trade of the movement had now reached over £5,500,000, an increase of £2,000,000 since 1938, and representing 48.5 of the total trade. The total trade of creamery societies at £8,200,000 also showed an increase. He was happy to say that the non-dairy trade of the creamery societies was now 28 per cent. of the total trade.

NEW PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Rev. E. J. Coyne, S.J., newly-elected President, speaking at the annual meeting of the Irish Agricultural Organisation Society in Dublin yesterday. With him is Mr. C. C. Riddell, Assistant Secretary.

New Chief of U.S. Forces in Europe

Lieut.-General Devers, whose appointment as Officer Commanding U.S. forces in the European theatre of operations was announced yesterday, is described as a "tough guy" and a real "go-getter," says Reuter. He succeeds Lieut.-General Andrews, who was killed in a flying accident in Iceland.

Keeping Taxis on the Roads

Dublin taxi-drivers, cut to 25 per cent. of their former petrol allocation, are voluntarily putting themselves upon the road on a "turn and turn about" weekly basis. By arrangement among themselves, members of the Irish Taxi and Hackney Owners' Association—which represents almost the entire metropolitan service—are working their hazards in groups on alternate weeks.

Mr. W. J. Wilson, Secretary of the Association, states that their members are also refusing frivolous calls from theatre or dance parties. "Our aim," he says, "is to keep taxis on the road for essential or emergency purposes."

AFRAID TO TAKE A DRINK OF TEA

Busy Nurse was Victim of Stomach Trouble

Nurse MacDonald suffered so badly from indigestion that at times she dare not even take a drink of tea for fear of the after-effects. But those days are past now. In this letter she tells you why:—

"I have suffered with stomach trouble for a long time, and about three years ago I had an operation. It did me good, but I was not cured, and I had to be so careful of what I ate. I am a mid-wife, and going to cases often I had to refuse a drink of tea when I longed for it, as I dared not how I would suffer afterwards. One day at a case my stomach began to burn. I told the woman of the house and she asked me to try a Bennie tablet. I took one, and it eased the burning pain at once. I bought a packet then, and now I can eas any-thing. If I take one or two Bennies after-wards I recommend them to all my patients."—Nurse MacDonald.

Rennies are a combination of 15 separate ingredients, which include antacids to neutralise acidity, absorbents to reduce stomach gas, and digestive ferments which actively aid digestion.

All Chemists sell Rennies: 7d. & 2/- pkt.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

without Calomel—and you'll jump out of bed in the morning full of vim and vigour.

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely your food doesn't digest, stays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned, and you feel sour, sunk, and the world looks punk.

Laxatives help a little, but are mere bowel movement. It's not a get at the cause. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills (or one or two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 1/3 and 3/-.

Week-End Cricket

AFTER their unexpected victory last week over Leinster, the chief interest in to-morrow's Senior League programme will be Y.M.C.A.'s bid to secure full points from Phœnix, the champions, at Phœnix Park. The home side are listed at full strength, with O'Connell and F. Quinn out for the first time, replacing J. L. Brooks and T. Kennedy. The batting, therefore, should thoroughly test the Y.M.C.A. attack, for every man, down to number eleven, can score runs. On the other hand, if Y.M.C.A. can master Boucher, the Phœnix bowling can be rather innocuous, for Kevin Quinn has not yet revealed the form with the ball which made him such an outstanding all-rounder at Belvedere. It is a very open affair and will certainly provide extremely keen cricket.

Leinster also will be at full strength for their meeting with Pembroke at Rathmines as P. Neville and M. Desmond are down to play. Despite last week's batting failure, it is likely that the Pembroke bowlers will spend a tiring afternoon with the array of batting against them, especially if N. H. Lambert gets going. The fact that the Williams brothers got off to a great start against Civil Service, and are obviously in form at this early stage, should make a great difference to Pembroke, and as they have a knack of rising to the occasion against Leinster, this ought to be an interesting game.

Clontarf are at home to Trinity, and unless the latter have S. Barnes in action, they look likely to meet with another reverse. Although they did not reveal much ability in that respect when beating Merrion last Saturday, Clontarf have plenty of batting resources, with Mahony, Carty, Bourke, Shrago, Caprani and Ruddock in their ranks, and as long as Burgess maintains his present form, J. W. Hill will not be too much missed from the attack. Trinity showed poor all-round form against Phœnix, and certainly will do better, but at the moment their batting is uncertain and the bowling lacks sting. Merrion should pay a successful visit to the Park at the expense of Civil Service. An interesting reappearance for them is R. F. McCartan, who was a useful all-rounder some years ago.

Camerlone Wins Cup

CAMERLONE, ridden by his trainer, Mr. M. A. Byrne, won the Tipperary Cup at Powerstown Park yesterday for Mr. S. W. Swann, a North of England owner, who was present to see the horse score. It was a good performance on the part of Camerlone, who made all the running and won easily from Tontonvilla. This was Mr. M. A. Byrne's first winning ride, and another amateur who "broke the ice" was Mr. A. Scannell, who was rewarded for a persevering effort on Immaterial, in the Cahir Plate, when he caught Red Pine at the distance and ran the favourite out of it.

Zog won this kind race in succession when he scored in the Cashel Hurdle, and Knight of Venosas had not much trouble in beating St. Donavint and others in the Powerstown Park 'Chase.

SALE AT BALLEECE QUARRIES

The competition for plant and machinery brought buyers from nearly all parts of Southern and Northern Ireland to the auction on Tuesday and Wednesday last, which was conducted by Battersby and Company, Dublin. There was brisk competition for large quantities of steel rails, steel girders, railway tracks, wagons and bogeys, and for the different machines. "Avery" 30-ton weighbridge sold at £310, cast iron piping (1" and 2") 3/- per foot, and large amounts of various timbers, together with galvanised iron, were bought eagerly by local farmers. The block-making plant was knocked down at £120.

Killed in Lift Accident

An ex gratia payment of £100, without admission of liability, is to be awarded to Mrs. Mary A. Guihan by the Royal Hibernian Hotel, Dublin, following a settlement which was announced and made a rule of Court by Judge Davitt in the Dublin Circuit Civil Court, yesterday. The settlement was the result of an application for compensation by Mrs. Guihan, for the death of her daughter, Helen Guihan, who was employed as a maid in the hotel, and was killed in an accident when trying to close the door of an electric lift in the hotel on 21st May last.

Mr. Hooper (instructed by M. A. Lynch, solicitor), appeared for the applicant, and Mr. W. O'B. Fitzgerald (instructed by Messrs. A. and H. Goodbody), for respondents.

Head-of-the-River Race To-morrow

To-morrow afternoon the fourth annual Head-of-the-River Race will be rowed on the Liffey, over a course of 2½ miles, extending from Island Bridge to Butt Bridge. There are two divisions, one for Fine and the other for Clinker built boats, and a pennant is awarded to the winner in each division. The race is against time, and the crews are sent off in single file at intervals of 15 seconds each. There is, however, every possibility that, on the run down the river, crews will overtake and pass one another. When this occurs, racing, in the usual sense of the term, invariably takes place and adds to the interest and excitement of the event.

The popularity of the race has grown steadily from year to year, and, in addition to crews representing all the Dublin clubs, two provincial clubs have entered crews. These are Shannon Boat Club and Rockwell College Rowing Club. The first-named took part in the race in 1942, but Rockwell is appearing in it for the first time. The crew, which is entirely composed of schoolboys, has been practising on the Upper Liffey for the past week, and should prove a very good account of itself to-morrow.

The full entry, in the order of starting, is:—Dublin University No. 1, Dublin University No. 2, Neptune No. 1, U.C.D. No. 1, U.C.D. No. 2, Drogheda, Commercial, Old Collegians, U.C.D. No. 3, Rockwell College, Neptune No. 2.

In 1942 Dublin University won both pennants, and the time of the crew which won the Head-of-the-River Race was 12 m. 45 secs. The first boat in to-morrow's race will be sent on its way at 4.15 sharp, and it should come into sight from Island Bridge about 4.25. The finishing line will be between O'Connell Bridge and Butt Bridge.

North v. South Soccer

The first round of the North v. South tournament will not conclude until next Monday, when Distillery v. Bohemians play their return match in Belfast, and Cliftonville come to Dalymount Park to continue the tussle with Dundalk, whom they lead by 2-1.

So far, the Northern clubs have had the better of it. Derry City, after a 3-1 defeat by St. James's Gate at Dalymount Park, turned the tables (4 clear) in the second game, to make it 5-5. Belfast Celtic piled it on against Cork United at Belfast (5-11), and finished at 5-2. To-morrow Shamrock Rovers travel North to continue the struggle with Linfield, whom they lead by a goal (3-2), and to-night Glentoran meet Shelbourne, who lead 1-0.

Until the two remaining matches are played to a finish—and they could be productive of a very unequal number of results—it would be unwise to indulge in predictions, but it is extremely doubtful if the second round will retain its attractiveness for the Dublin crowds, which have been well up to last season's dimensions. The competition, however, did not arouse the interest it did when it was first staged. The playing of so many "guests" certainly did not achieve the results expected, and it was obvious in the games at Dalymount Park that more than one team was unbalanced by the inclusion of strangers, and that the regular sides would have blended more evenly.

Bohemians play their first match in the tournament to-morrow at Dalymount Park against Distillery, and will be represented by the team that defeated Linfield in the Condor Cup at Easter. Distillery is one of the strongest of the Belfast teams, but hopes are entertained at Dalymount that the side that won the Condor trophy will establish a lead sufficient to put the club into the second round. The brothers O'Flanagan are included in the front line, Michael in the centre. It could be the best and brightest game of the series so far.

The amateurs' team will be: Goal—Landers; J. Coyle, F. Glennon; F. Fullen, P. Molloy, G. Kiernan; K. O'Flanagan, K. Delaney, M. O'Flanagan, K. Dunne, P. Morris.

THEATRE ROYAL BOXING

The programme has been completed for Mr. Dan Joseph's first promotion at the Theatre Royal on Tuesday, May 25. The secondary attraction to the Irish heavy-weight championship fight between Pat Mulcahy and Paddy O'Sullivan, will be the meeting of Jimmy Ingle and Sean Clancy for the Eire welter-weight title—a pairing of great interest between two former amateur champions. There will be a contest between Eddie Chandler, of Dublin, and Mick McGee, a Northern Ireland contender for the welter-weight championship.

DEATH OF MR. D. P. O'BRIEN

Regret will be felt at the announcement of the death of Mr. Daniel P. O'Brien, which occurred at his residence, Clashgarriff House, Churchtown, Mallow, early yesterday. Mr. O'Brien was an extensive farmer and breeder, and at periods owned some good horses. Some years ago he sold Sofford to Miss Paget for a substantial figure, and two years ago he won the Irish Cesarewitch with Astronaster, and only last Saturday his Astrology finished second to Foam Crest for the Irish Lincolnshire.

R.D.S. Pedigree Cattle Sell Well

WITH ponies shying at passing trams and endangering the limbs of their youthful riders, Ballsbridge had more of an old-time air yesterday than on the opening day of the Spring Show. There was an excellent attendance at the jumping events, and also at the sales rings. Cows and heifers of the Shorthorn, Hereford and Jersey breeds were sold by Messrs. Gavin Low, Ltd., and the better quality stock went at good prices. A number of animals were, however, withdrawn. Pigs were also auctioned, but bidding was strongly influenced by the difficulty of getting feeding. The large White breed champion, a boar bred at Mount Bellew, sold for 20 guineas, while the champion sow was withdrawn at the same figure, which was the only bid put up for her. The top price for cattle, realised twice, was 200 guineas, paid to Mr. G. Leeman, Armagh, for his reserve champion Shorthorn heifer, Grangemore Lily; and to Mr. R. A. Latta, Ferns, for his Shorthorn, Bessie B. The representative of Sir Basil Brooke, new Premier of Northern Ireland, bought a heifer for 115 guineas.

JUMPING EVENTS.

The entries for the jumping events were unusually large, and it was close on 7 o'clock when the last was decided. The customary high standard was well maintained all through. Of the four events the principal was the Cantrell and Cochrane Perpetual Challenge Cup, a trophy value 150 gns., which was productive of keen competition, but after the second round only Silvy, Bracelet and Meta, with 0 faults each, were concerned with the first three prizes, Sea Point, following an unclassified first round, having four faults and being placed fourth. The third time Silvy refused the stile, and dropped three points, Bracelet fared badly at the in-and-out poles, having 4 faults, and at the same obstacle Meta lost four points, victory thus going to Mrs. E. H. Talbot's Silvy, who was stylishly ridden by Mr. B. Sterling Berry. The outstanding performers in the Novice event were Bonnie Jean and Tinker, each of which was at its best over the third round, but the premier award went to Bonnie Jean, the property of Mr. E. B. Gage, who finished up with only three faults, to beat Tinker by a point, third prize going to Cuchulain with 5 faults. The Children's competition was won by Worthy Buck, ridden by Master Bamber Carmel Goff, and Master R. Hayes rode the winner, Snowstorm, and the second, Seashell in the Youths' event.

Competition A—Over special course, for ponies ridden by children—Miss D. C. Robinson's Worthy Buck, Miss C. Goff 1; Master K. O'Dwyer's Pixie, Owner 2; Miss P. O'Malley's Dinkie, Owner 3; Miss J. M. Bradbury's Timmy, Owner 4. 20 competed Competition B—Over special 8-fly fence—Cantrell and Cochrane Perpetual Cup, value 150 guineas.—Mrs. W. Talbot's Silvy, Mr. B. S. Berry 1; Mr. D. McCreedy's Meta, Mr. P. McConnochie 2; Miss C. J. McSweeney's Bracelet, Miss S. Meyers 3; Lt.-Col. J. Hume Dudgeon's Sea Point, Miss K. Dudgeon 4. 43 competed.

Competition C—Over special course, fly fences—Major-General L. Hayes's Snowstorm, Master R. Hayes 1; Miss R. O'Reilly's Seashell, Master P. Hayes 2; Mr. B. S. Berry's Penny, Miss S. Dodd 3. 9 competed.

Dunshaughlin Event (Musical Chairs for Children)—Winner, Miss J. Bradbury; second, Miss A. Boylan.

NEXT YEAR'S SHOW.

At a meeting of the Royal Dublin Society's Committee of Agriculture, held at Ballsbridge yesterday, Mr. H. J. Toler-Aylward in the chair, the veterinary inspector's report, giving a clean bill of health to all the animals exhibited at the Spring Show, was read and considered satisfactory. The dates of the 1944 Spring Show were under consideration, and it was decided that, should circumstances permit, the show would be held on May 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th, being the corresponding dates to this year.

The R.D.S. Showground premises were disinfected with Jeyes' Fluid.

New Charges Against Gas Company Officials

STILL more charges were preferred against William Grey, General Manager and Secretary of the Alliance and Dublin Gas Consumers' Co., of Barnhill, Dalkey, and Harold Clifford Hoskins, Noreen, Dundrum, engineer in the same company, when they appeared on remand in the Dublin District Court yesterday. Grey was now charged with having, on dates in 1942, unlawfully imported wine and spirits in contravention of the Emergency Powers Acts, and also with having, on dates in the years 1940-41-42 and 1943, unlawfully exported, otherwise than by post, a number of informative letter packets, contrary to the Emergency Powers Acts. Hoskins was charged with unlawfully aiding and abetting Grey in the export of the letter packets and of the wine and spirits.

Detective Inspector M. Reynolds said that, when charged and cautioned in the Bridewell yesterday, Grey replied, "I have nothing to say until I obtain legal advice." Hoskins replied, "Nothing to say."

Miss Maureen O'Reilly, who acted as secretary to Grey from November, 1942, said that during the period she received a number of letters from Grey to give to captains of the company's ships, to be posted in England. Grey usually told her to give the letters to the first captain sailing that night or next day. She would then send a message to the captain, or ring Hoskins and tell him to send a messenger for the letters. Some she handed to the captains personally. Captains Waldron and Jones were two to whom she gave letters. When Grey handed her the letters they were addressed or sealed, and she was not aware of their contents. Some were st

FRIDAY, MAY 7, 1943.

A Good Start

Sir Basil Brooke has made a good start as the new Prime Minister of Northern Ireland. He has made virtually a clean sweep of what has come to be known as "the old gang." In the list of new Ministers, which was published yesterday, the name of only one member of Mr. J. M. Andrews's Cabinet remains; Mr. William Grant, who was Minister for Public Security, becomes Minister for Labour. Otherwise, all the Cabinet appointments are new. Sir Dawson Bates and Mr. J. Milne Barbour, both links with the palmy days of the Ulster Unionist Council, have been dropped; Mr. J. H. Robb has been appointed to a County Court Judgeship; and the new Cabinet, while it scarcely can be regarded as a team of young men, marks a definite breach with a tradition that has persisted since the days of the gun-running at Larne. The new Premier has recognised the justice of public criticism by his abolition of no fewer than five parliamentary secretaryships, most of which were little more than sinecures. He has decided to combine the duties of head of the Government with those which he previously exercised as Minister of Commerce and Production; and it is evident that he means to govern the six counties as economically as possible. Possibly, the most interesting feature of the new Cabinet is the inclusion, as Minister for Public Security, of Mr. Harry Midgley, formerly chairman of the Northern Ireland Labour Party, from which he was expelled some time ago. Mr. Midgley is head of what is known as the Commonwealth Labour Party, and is a whole-hearted believer in the intensification of Northern Ireland's war effort. Another interesting feature of the new administration is the fact that two Presbyterian clergymen have been given portfolios; Professor

FALSE TEETH DISCOVERY
A Dentist has found a way at last to make false teeth feel and act like natural ones. He has perfected a preparation called DENTESIVE which you squeeze from a tube. When biting hard foods, chewing, talking, or laughing, DENTESIVE holds your false teeth steady as a rock, fixed firmly in your mouth—they cannot shift! They are sealed watertight on your gums—food cannot get underneath. DENTESIVE holds firmer and 3 times longer than ordinary fixatives. Squeeze a little DENTESIVE on your denture each morning—it takes 5 seconds—for the rest of the day you can forget you have false teeth!
